

Turn Up the Cool: Level 4 Refrigeration Apprentice Wanted (Vancouver)

Ready to level up your trade game? We're on the hunt for a Level 4 Refrigeration Mechanic Apprentice (or higher) to join our fast-growing crew across the Vancouver / Lower Mainland scene.

If you're into big systems, real-world problem solving, and learning from top-tier techs—this is where you want to be.

What You'll Be Doing

You won't be stuck on the sidelines—you'll be in the action:

- Jump in on installations & startups of commercial/industrial refrigeration + HVAC systems
- Keep things running smooth with maintenance and service work
- Get hands-on with diagnostics, troubleshooting, and repairs
- Make sense of blueprints, schematics, and wiring diagrams (yes, you'll actually use them)
- Work with refrigerants safely and responsibly (we do it right)
- Keep clean, accurate service records—no guesswork
- Follow safety like a pro (because we all go home at the end of the day)

What You Bring

- Registered Refrigeration Apprentice (Level 4 preferred — higher = even better)
- 2–3+ years in commercial or industrial refrigeration
- A valid Class 5 license (clean abstract)

Why You'll Want This Job

- Work across diverse job sites — no boring repeat days
- Learn from experienced techs who actually know their stuff
- Clear pathway to becoming a Journeyman
- Be part of a team that's growing fast and building something solid

The Fine Print

- Based in the Lower Mainland
- Rotation on-call shifts required (because breakdowns don't wait)
-

14605 – 118 Avenue
Edmonton, AB T5L 2M7
T 780.426.6055
TF 800.414.4929

 Bottom Line

If you're ready to build your skills, earn your stripes, and work on serious equipment, we want to hear from you.

Apply now and get in on the ground floor of a team that's going places.